IPSec

IPsec (Internet Protocol Security) is a security protocol that uses an optional Internet Protocol function to prevent manipulation and ensure the confidentiality of data transmitted as IP packets. IPsec encrypts data carried over the network, such as print jobs sent from computers to a printer. Because the data is encrypted at the network layer, applications that use a higher-level protocol use IPsec even if the user is not aware of its use.

IPsec supports the following operations:

- IPsec transmissions
- IPsec settings

For more information about IPsec, see Software and Network User's Guide.

Additional dialling operations

Combining Address Book numbers

Sometimes you may want to choose from several long-distance carriers when you send a fax. Rates may vary depending on the time and destination. You can store these long dialling sequences by dividing them and setting them up as separate Address Book numbers in any combination. You can even include manual dialling using the dial pad (see Basic User's Guide).

For example, you might have stored '01632' in Address Book: Brother 1 and '960555' in Address Book: Brother 2. You can use them both to dial '01632-960555' if you press the following:

- 8 Press the number.
- 9 Press Apply.

- 10 Press Fax Start. You will dial '01632-960555'.

To temporarily change a number, you can substitute part of the number by pressing it on the dial pad. For example, to change the number to '01632-960556', you could enter the number (Brother 1: 01632) using Address Book, press Apply and then press 960556 on the dial pad.

NOTE

If you must wait for another dial tone or signal at any point in the dialling sequence, create a pause in the number by pressing Pause. Each key press adds a 2.8-second delay. You can press Pause as many times as needed to increase the length of the pause.

Your machine has 256 MB of standard memory and one slot for optional memory expansion. You can increase the memory up to maximum of 512 MB by installing one SO-DIMM (Small Outline Dual In-line Memory Module).

SO-DIMM Types

You can install the following SO-DIMMs:

- 256 MB Kingston KTH-LJ2015/256
- 256 MB Transcend TS256MHP423A

NOTE

- For more information, visit the Kingston Technology's website at <http://www.kingston.com/>.
- For more information, visit the Transcend website at <http://www.transcend.com.tw/>.

In general, the SO-DIMM must have the following specifications:

Type	144-pin and 16-bit output
CAS latency	4
Clock frequency	267 MHz (533 Mb/S/Pin) or more
Capacity	256 MB
Height	30.0 mm
DRAM type	DDR2 SDRAM

NOTE

- There might be some SO-DIMMs that will not work with the machine.
- For more information, call the dealer you bought the machine from or Brother customer service.

Installing extra memory

- 1 Turn off the machine's power switch. Unplug the telephone line cord.
- 2 Disconnect the interface cable from the machine, and then unplug the power cord from the AC power outlet.

NOTE

Be sure to turn off the machine's power switch before you install or remove the SO-DIMM.

- 3 Remove the plastic (1) and then metal (2) SO-DIMM covers.

- 4 Unpack the SO-DIMM and hold it by its edges.

IMPORTANT

To prevent damage to the machine from static electricity, DO NOT touch the memory chips or the board surface.

- 5 Hold the SO-DIMM by the edges and align the notches in the SO-DIMM with the protrusions in the slot. Insert the SO-DIMM diagonally (1), then tilt it toward the interface board until it locks into place (2).

- 6 Put the metal (2) and then the plastic (1) SO-DIMM covers back on.

- 7 Plug the machine's power cord back into the AC power outlet first, and then connect the interface cable.
- 8 Plug in the telephone line cord. Turn on the machine's power switch.

NOTE

To make sure that you have installed the SO-DIMM correctly, you can print the User Settings List that shows the current RAM SIZE, (see How to print a report on page 42.)

Glossary

This is a comprehensive list of features and terms that appear in Brother manuals. Availability of these features depends on the model you purchased.

Address Book

Names and numbers you have stored for easy dialling.

Address Book List

A listing of names and numbers stored in the Address Book memory, in alphabetical order.

Automatic Redial

A feature that enables your machine to redial the last fax number after five minutes if the fax did not go through because the line was busy.

Backup Print

Your machine prints a copy of every fax that is received and stored in memory. This is a safety feature so you will not lose messages during a power failure.

As a cost saving feature, all delayed faxes to the same fax number will be sent as one transmission.

Beeper Volume

Volume setting for the sound when you press a key or make an error.

Broadcasting

The ability to send the same fax message to more than one location.

BT Call Sign

A subscriber service purchased from the telephone company in the U.K. that gives you another phone number on an existing phone line. The Brother machine uses the new number to simulate a dedicated fax line.

Caller ID

A service purchased from the telephone company that lets you see the number (or name) of the party calling you.

Coding method

Method of coding the information contained in the document. All fax machines must use a minimum standard of Modified Huffman (MH). Your machine is capable of greater compression methods, Modified Read (MR), Modified Modified Read (MMR) and JBIG, if the receiving machine has the same capability.

Communication error (or Comm. Error)

An error during fax sending or receiving, usually caused by line noise or static.

Compatibility group

The ability of one fax unit to communicate with another. Compatibility is assured between ITU-T Groups.

Contrast

Setting to compensate for dark or light documents, by making faxes or copies of dark documents lighter and light documents darker.

Delayed Fax

Sends your fax at a specified later time that day.

Density

Changing the Density makes the whole image lighter or darker.

Dual Access

ECM (Error Correction Mode)

Detects errors during fax transmission and resends the pages of the fax that had an error.

Extension telephone

A telephone on the fax number that is plugged into a separate wall socket.

External phone

A TAD (telephone answering device) or telephone that is connected to your machine.

F/T Ring Time
